

Vihula Manor Country Club & Spa

A hidden treasure on the Northern coast of Estonia, set amidst the wildlife-rich Lahemaa National Park

Vihula Manor is a charming 16th century estate with two main manor house buildings, 25 other historical buildings and 50 hectares of beautiful parkland set alongside the Mustoja River in the Lahemaa National Park, 4 km from the Baltic Sea coast, 90 km from Tallinn and 290 km from St Petersburg.

History

The earliest written source that refers to Vihula is dated 1501 and places ownership in the hands of a Danish baron named Hans von Lode. Throughout the centuries, Vihula changed ownership repeatedly. The estate was completed as it appears nowadays during the time of the von Schubert's who lived there till 1939. The historicist main building was completed in the 1880s, but mostly the buildings were built during the period 1820-1840. Since 1991, the manor has been owned and managed by the Vihula Manor company and the Unique Hotels Group and has undergone a complete and total restoration from 2008-2014.
