Arvo Pärt Centre Visit

There are few composers in music history that have created music using their original composition technique, or whose sound language is so unmistakably recognisable from the very first bars. Arvo Pärt is one such composer, his oeuvre has left an important mark in the history of 20th-century music.

The Arvo Pärt Centre combines the composer's personal archive with an information and music centre. It is an open meeting place for musicians, researchers and music lovers—for anyone interested in Arvo Pärt's music and world of ideas. It was founded by Arvo Pärt and his family, with the aim of creating opportunities for preserving and researching the creative heritage of the composer in the context of his native language in Estonia. The centre is situated in Laulasmaa, 35 kilometres from Tallinn, on a peninsula with magnificent natural surroundings—in a pine forest near the sea.

The Arvo Pärt Centre, designed by architects Fuensanta Nieto and Enrique Sobejano, was awarded the Grand Prix of the Cultural Endowment for Architecture in 2019.
